

FOR THE DOCTOR AND THE FRONT DESK

Your NutriDyn Starter Case

This case exists so your patients can leave with something the same day you recommend it. A practice that stocks eight products it believes in outperforms a practice that writes a supplement on a slip of paper and hopes. Put it where patients can see it, use the three sentences on this page, and reorder before you run out.

1 What is in the case

PRODUCT	ITEM	WHAT IT IS FOR
Fruits & Greens	powder	The whole-food base. 20+ servings of fruits and vegetables in one scoop. This is the product patients repurchase without being reminded.
Gluco IR	R960	Healthy glucose metabolism support. Dihydroberberine, alpha lipoic acid, chromium.
GI Integrity	R327	Gut lining and intestinal barrier support. The most widely used formula in this territory.
UltraBiotic Akkermansia Plus	R196	Next-generation probiotic. The one patients have not already bought somewhere else.
Inflam-Eze Plus	R856	Everyday inflammatory and joint comfort support.
D3 10,000 with K2	R172	Foundation. Pairs with almost every panel you run.
Omega Pure Complete	R842	Foundation omega-3. Third-party tested for purity.
Mag Calm Pro	R2122	Magnesium drink for the sleep and stress conversation. Raspberry lemonade.

2 Where to put it

- Checkout counter, at eye level, not behind the desk. A case a patient cannot reach is a case a patient will not ask about. If your front desk has to turn around to get it, it will not get sold.
- Keep the Fruits & Greens open and mixable. One shaker bottle and a jug of water next to the case is worth more than any brochure. Nobody stocks a greens powder they have not tasted.
- Face the labels forward and keep one of each visible. When a row goes empty, that is the reorder signal, not the invoice.

3 What to say, in three sentences

Do not sell it. Prescribe it the way you would prescribe anything else, and hand it over before the patient leaves the room.

SAY IT LIKE THIS

“Based on what we just went over, I want you starting on this today, not next week. It is the one I keep in the office because I want to know exactly what you are taking. Grab it at the front and I will check in with you at your next visit to see how you are doing on it.”

4 How to reorder

Reorder when any product hits its last two units. Standard shipping runs a few business days, so ordering at the last bottle is ordering too late.

Online	nutridyn.com · sign in to your practitioner account · Reorder pulls up your last order so you can repeat it in one click
By phone	800.444.9998 · have your account name ready
Ask me	Text or email me the product and the quantity and I will place it for you. You do not have to log in to anything.

Two things most practices miss

Your staff decides whether this works. The person at the front desk has more supplement conversations in a week than you do. Give them ten minutes with this page and let them taste the Fruits & Greens. A front desk that can answer one question outsells a doctor who recommends and walks away.

Patient handouts are free, ask for them. There are printable patient sheets for blood sugar, gut and probiotic support, and weight management, written in patient language with the protocol on the back. I will bring as many as you want, with your logo on them instead of mine if you prefer.
